

City of Fort Worth Adoption Centers

May 1, 2021

Of the 355 dogs currently at the Fort Worth Animal Shelter, none are listed solely as a "mixed breed" that lacks a predominant breed type. 100% of the dogs have a predominant breed type listed and many of the dogs also have a secondary breed type listed. Churro is a good example of pit bull-type wide skull, head shape and ears, where the fur and tail are characteristic of other breeds, and is listed as a pit bull-mix. The fatal attacker is quite similar, yet according to the city spokesperson, the fatally attacking dog has no predominant breed type physical characteristics. <https://www.fortworthtexas.gov/departments/code-compliance/animals/dogs>
